To state fully this position is to refute Here Seward, who made speech up. on speech to show that, by a law of necessity tween the North and the South, wherein one must conquer, and whose whole past political life has been an effort to bring the North into a state of aggression on slavery, affects to be filled with sorrow and even shame that thirty millions of peo ple cannot enjoy the benefits of their institutions statesman who has heretofore proclaimed that there were written things in the federal conititution that were contrary to the Divine law, and who has, because of this, again and again counseled an uprising to expunge these provisions, now comes out with the eulogy that the framers of the Constitution had a wisdom that surpassed all previous understanding among men!" Washington, March 5, 1860. To the Senate of the United States:

on Tuesday last:

In compliance with the resolution of the Senate of the 2 d of February, 1869, I trusmit to that body a communication of the Secretary of War, furnishing all the information requested in said resolution.

JAMES BUCHANAN.

WAR DEPARTMENT, March 5, 1860. Sir: In answer to a resolution of the Senate of the 23d ultimo, requesting to be furnished with "any communication" which "may have been received from the Governor of the State of Texas, and the documents accompanying it, concern ing alleged hostilities now existing on the Ru Grande between the citizens or the military an thority of Mexico and that State respectively, I have the honor to state thit, in preparing the papers called for by this resolution, I have thought it might be a matter of interest, perhaps of importance, to have a succinct statement of the origin and progress of the troubles on that border. With this view I have made a synopsiof the transactions as they appear from papers on file in this office, but which are not sent to the Senve because they have not been called for It will appear from these documents that nothing could exceed the contrariety of statemen and opinion, even amongst those having the best opport mity of knowing. One thing only is certain, and that is, that from a small becinning these difficulties have rapidly increased, until they se riously threaten the peace of the two countries.

On the 5th day of February, 1859, Brevet Ma jor General D. E. Twiggs, then commanding the military department of Texas, with the approval of the General-in Chief, but without sanction of the War Department, issued orders directing the nment of Fort Brown, Ringgold Barracks, Fort McIntosh, posts on the Rio Grande, each garrisoned by a single company of troops

The reasons assigned by General Twiggs for breaking up these pasts are given in a communication received from him under date of March 28, 1859, of which the following is a copv:

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF TEXAS, San Antonio, Ma ch 28, 1859.

Sin: I have heard incidentally (not officially, that the "Department at Washington disapprove that the "Department at Washington disapprove the reads in Texas." I ed of my breaking up the posts in Texas." I was not until after consultation with the Lieuten ant General common ling the army, and his verbal approval, that I determined to do so; of which I, on the 13th of January, informed the Secretary of War, through your office. The order was not issued until the 30th of January, and the movements were not burried, in order to give time, if it was not approved by the Secretary, for it to be countermand d. Hiving an extensive frontier to guard from an enemy, who was making daily inroads upon the inhabitants, and havng so few troops, I, after mature considerat determined to abundon the posts on the Rio Grande, and place the troops on the frontier .-There is not, nor ever has been, any danger of Mexicans crossing on our side of the river to plunder or disturb the inhabitants; and the outery on that river for troops is solely to have an expenditure of the public money. At every post that has been abundoned in Texas an outers have been really and the control of the solution of t cry has been raised, and plenty of Indian signs seen. The citizens in the vicinity of these posts are very unwilling to lose the opportunit handling a portion of the money necessarily ex-

out the view of the Secretary and Commanding General, and shall still do so to the best of my ability; and it is a sou ce of mortifica-tion and regret to me to find I have failed in

Very respectfully, your obedient servant. D. E. TWIGGS, Brevet Major General S. S. Army, Commanding Department. To Col. S Cooper, Adjutant General U.S. Army, Washington.

It was not thought proper to countermand this order, because of the high military author-ity upon which it was made, and because it believed that the movement would have al ready been made before orders to the contrary could reach the troops. There was no well-founded reason to apprehend any danger from the withdrawal of gurrisons until the 2th of October, 1859, information reached the Departhad on the 21th of September, entered Browns-ville and murdered several citizens of the place, besides committing repeated acts of plunder -This information came through General Twiggs, the officer in command of that department, to whom application was made for troops to protect the place. The General promptly determined upon the disposition of certain troops, which he thus explains: "I shall order one company of infantry to the junction of the Leona and Frio rivers, and one to some point be low Fort Duncan. A detachment of artillery has been ordered to scout between Forts Clark and Doncin, and a company of cavalry from Camp Hudson to the same point."

In addition to these movements, orders were given from this department to General Twiggs to re-occupy Fort Brown immediately with two companies from Fort Clark. On the 23th of October this information was communicated to Hon. John Hemphill, a Senator from Texas, in response to a request of the citizens of Brownsasking for protection.

D.sturbances, however, seemed to increase at Brownsville, and in consequence of communications from the above name! Senator, and from the citizens of the town, relative to the disastrous state of affairs on the Rio Grande, received on the 3d of November, 1859, orders were given from this department to move one company of artillery from Baton Rouge to Fort

Brown, which order was promptly executed. On the 19th of November the following dispatch was received from General Twiggs: "November 12, 1859. Gen. Twiggs reports that an express had just arrived at his headquarters with information that Brownsville had been burnt, a one hundred Americans killed by Cortinus. He ordered out seven companies of foot and two of horse, under Major Heintzelman, to take the field."

This alarming state of affairs thus set forth by the commanding General seemed to demand that form by prompt and active measures should be taken by Chestnut street."

Summer to send from Fort Leavenworth two companies of light artillery and the principal actor in a painful tragedy, three companies of foot; and similar orders were sent to the commander at Fort Monroe to send six companies of foot with all speed to the Rio Grande. But the following dispatch from the commanding General came just in time to prevent the above movement of the troops:

the reports concerning Cortinas prove to be mostly false; the order sending the troops to Brownsville has been counterm inded."

Usefulness of Diamonds. pended by the Government and troops.

In conclusion, I have respectfully to say that I have always, so far as I knew them, carried personal adornment, and that they are really of no essential value whatever in the practical arts. This is a mistaken notion; they are used for a great number of practical purposes in the arts.

Thus for cutting the glass of our windows into proper size, no other substance can equal it, and it is exclusively used for this purpose. A natural edge, or point, as it is called, is used for this work, and thous inds of such are annually required in our glass factories. Diamond points are also employed for engraving on cornelians, amethysts, and other brilliants, and for the finer cutting on cameos and seals. Being very hard, the diamond is also used in chronometers for the steps of pivots; and as it possesses high refractive with inferior dispersive power and little longitudinal aberration, it has been successfully employed for the small deen lenses of single microscopes. The magnifying power of the diamond in proportion to that of plate glass, ground to a similar form, is eight to three. For drawing minute lines on hard steel and class, to make micrometers, there is no sub-

The rough diamond is called bort, and the points used for glass-cutting are fragments of the borts. Great care and skill are necessary in selecting the cutting points, because the diamond that cuts the glass most successfully has the cut-ing edges of the crystal placed exactly at right ngles to each other, and passing through a poin or intersection, made by the crossing of the edges. A polished diamond, however perfect may be its edges, when pressed upon the surface of the glass. splinters it with the slightest pressure; bu the natural diamond the most accurate lines are produced on glass, and their surfaces are so highly burnished that, if ruled close together, they lecompose i ht, and offerd the most beautiful prism tic apparance—all the colors of the rainbow flash from them as from the silvery interior of a peurl oyster shell.

D.amonds are also emp oyed for drill points to perforate rubies, and bore holes in draw plates for fine wire, and also for arilling in hard steel .-Some inquiries have been mude of us recently in regard to using them for dressing millstones, as a substitute for steel picks. We apprehend that they are altogether too expensive to be used for tors would make the discovery of manufacturing diamonds as cheaply as we make charcoal, which is of the same composition, we might be able to recommend them to our millers. The coke obtained from the interior of gas retorts in many cases is found so hard that it will cut glass; but as its point endures but for a short period, it can not be made available as a substitute for the natural diamond for such purposes.

IN presenting you with DR. EATON'S INFAN-TILE CORDIAL, we desire to state its superior-ity over every nostrum that nurse or quack has here-tofore offered you.

First—It is the preparation of a regular physician, who is well qualified from much experience in in-fantile complaints to prescribe for them. Secondly— It is entirely free from paragoric or opiate of any kind, and consequently relieves by removing the suffering of your child, instead of deadening itssensi-bilities.—Thirdly—It is put up with great care, as a comparison of it with any other article for infantile complaints will show; the very roots from which it is distilled being dug from the forests under the direc-tion of Dr. Eaten, many of them by his own hands. Fourthly—It is perfectly harmless, and cannot in-jure the most delicate infant, and is a certain cure and relief in all the following cases, which is its chief merit over every other preparation, viz: and relief in all the following cases, which is its chief merit over every other preparation, viz:

FOR ALL COMPLAINTS ATTENDING TEETH-ING; such as DYSENTERY COLIC, &c.; also, for softening the gums and relieving pain. For regulating the bowels it is unequaled. For Cold in the Head it is a sure relief. For CROUP, the most fatal and trying of diseases, it can be relied on with perfect confidence; and being a powerful anti spasmodic in all cases of convulsions for fits, we carnestly recommend you to lose not time in procuring it. Lastly—It costs so much more than other preparations of the kind, that we cannot afford such long advertisements as can those whose whole expense is their advertising; for the same reason, it commends itself as the most reliable to all mothers. In all cases, the directions wrapped around each bottle, must be strictly followed. Price, 25 cents per bottle.

Dr. Bronson, having been so far reduced by consumption, as to be considered beyond all hope of recovery by the most eminent of the medical profession, and also by himself—a regular physician of twenty years practice—as a last resort, conceived the idea of ANALYZING THE BLOOD, and applying the subject of physicians of the more immediate professions. years practice—as a last resort, conceived the idea of ANALYZING TriE BLOOD, and applying the subject of physiology to the more immediate connection, and effect of the state of the blood upon the health and system. The result has been the production of this "BLOOD FOOD," from the use of which Dr. Bronson was restored to perfect health. Within six months after its introduction, over two thousand consumptives were effectually cured by it. If you have any complaints of consumptive tendency—Cough, Cold, Headache, Palpitation of the Heart, Loss of appetite or pain in the side, lose no time in procuring a bottle of the "BLOOD FOOD." If you are suffering from Nercous Debility, or your sleep is broken and disturbed, if your Spirits are Depressed or your Organs relaced, you will find in this ar unfailing remeds, by commencing with ten drops. If your Liver is torpid or diseased in any manner whatever, one or two bottles will be sure to invigorate, and brins it into lively and healthful action. In the most inveterate cases of Lyspepsia the patient can here find the most efficient and grateful relief. A benefit is always experienced after taking only one bottle. In Male or Female Complaints and Weaknesses, the sufferer, after trying other remedies in vain, may rest assured, that a certain cure will result from the use of two or three bottles. The "BLOOD FOOD" is effectual in all cases of Eruptions, Salt Rheum Serafulas and other like complaints. Pal-and emaciated children and adults are immediately benefited by its use. It gives strength to the body and color and beauty to the skin. Physicians of all schools are using it with wonderful suecess.

A Weekly Paper Devoted to LITERATURE, NEWS, &c., &c. W E will commence, about the 1st of February, 1860, the publication of a FAMILY LITERARY AND NEWSPAPER, under the title of THE SOUTHERNER. Its feature will consist of

Southern History, Byography, and Legends; Choice Original and Se-lected Komances; Popular Sketch-es and Poetry; Wit, Humor, and Sentiment, Domestic, and Household Depart-ment; General Home and Foreign News;

With a combination of all the miscellaneous matter which makes a paper acceptable for FAMILY READ-THE SOUTHERNER will be printed on fine white paper, of large double medium size, with new and beautiful type, all ordered expressly for this publi-

Our experience and facilities induce us to promise that in looks it shall compare favorably with any paper in the East. A corps of EXPERIENCED and WELL KNOWN WRITERS will contribute regularly to its columns, and we believe that in this department also, it will not fall behind the boastful and pretentious Eastern papers, which are so largely patronized by Southern people.

THE VESPER GAS

AIR LIGHT, The Cheapest, most Brilliant, an most Convenient Artificial Light in the World!

THE Vesper Gas Light has won for itself a reputation for eleganee, economy, safety, and simplicity far beyond any other artificial light. The Vesper Gas flame and fixtures precisely resemble in form those of coal gas; but in brilliancy and purity of light, it possesses a decided advantage over even Louisville coal gas. It requires no chimney; there is no need of daily trimming of wick; and the construction of the fixture is so simple that it is not I able to get out of order, and a child can manage it readily. The gas burned in the Vesper fixtures is generated from pure coal oil, without any admixture of alcohol or other foreign ingredient. It is entirely free from oder while burning, as, by a simple contrivance, the vapor of the oil is mixed with the atmosphere, producing perfect combustion and a most intense light. The light has been pronounced by those who have had it in constant use for months, as most pleasant to the eye while reading or sewing, there tong no flicker or unsteadiness in the flame. The Vesper Gas Light is portable, and can be used in town or country—in fact, wherever artificial light is required. The fixtures themselves are adapted in styles to suit all tastes, from the plain single-light burner to the most costly chandelier. Each chandelier is perfect in itself; there is no outlay to be made for service pipes. The gas is generated in the burner, and all fixtures, from the cheap single-light burner to the expensive chandelier, are miniature gas-works in themselyes. They are sold at prices which do not exceed the cost of the ordinary gas fixtures of similar style and ornamentation. A price list will be sent to any address on application.

Vesper Gas Fixtures for their stores.

Churches, Hotels, Public Halls, and Private Residences throughout the State can now be fitted up with these elegant and convenient chandeliers, and other beautiful gas fixtures, which add so much to the appearance of such places and to the comfort of the home circle, and which heretofore could be used only in those favored districts embraced within the coalgas limits of large cities.

The limited space of an advertisement precludes the insertion here of the numerous testimonials of approval we have received from all quarters. Suffice it to say, scientific men and others who have examined and thoroughly tested the merits of the Vesper Gas Light, pronounce it the best and cheapest artificial light now known.

If The proprietor respectfully requests responsible merchants in every town and county in the State to correspond with him, believing they will find it to their interest to aid him in introducing this unequaled light to their customers.

It is known by a few individuals in the counties of Jefferson, Shelby, and Oldham, that I have a remedy-that effectually cures Hooping-Cough. If there are remedies in America or Europe that cures, it is not within my knowledge, (except the one I use,) Physicians tell the families they attend it can't be cured. I have no doubt they are eandid in what they state. To get the medicine in use, and lull to sleep a deep-rooted prejudice, the faculty are invited to get the medicine, and save the little innocents whom they attend, and tell them no more it cannot be cured. One dollar will pay for two bottles, which is a sufficiency for one child. This medicine can be conveyed to any part of the United States by express for a mere trifle.
